1 - INTRODUCTION

The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) of 1996 carry provisions for administrative simplification. This requires the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) to adopt standards to support the electronic exchange of administrative and financial health care transactions primarily between health care senders and plans. HIPAA directs the Secretary to adopt standards for transactions to enable health information to be exchanged electronically and to adopt specifications for implementing each standard.

1.1 Scope

The intended purpose of this HIPAA EDI Transaction Standard Companion Guide is to explain the procedures necessary for Trading Partners of HeW to transmit Electronic Data Interchange (EDI) transactions in order to receive Health Care Claim Payment/Advice - 835 transactions.

This Companion Guide is not intended to replace the v5010 ASC X12N Implementation Guides; rather it is intended to be used in conjunction with them. Additionally, the Companion Guide is intended to convey information that is within the framework and structure of the X12N Implementation Guides and not to contradict or exceed them.

1.2 Overview

This document will replace any previous HeW 835 companion guide(s) and must be used in conjunction with the TR3 instructions. This document's intent is to assist Trading Partners of HeW in implementing the 835 transaction and meet the processing standards of HeW, by identifying necessary structural and/or data requirements and recommendations.

1.3 References

For detailed information and standards for electronic submission of ANSI transactions, please reference the following documents:

ANSI v5010 ASC X12N Implementation Guides, which can be purchased at <http://www.wpc-edi.com>.

1.4 Additional Information

The intended audiences for this document are technical and operational staff responsible for generating, receiving, and reviewing electronic health care transactions.

2 - GETTING STARTED

2.1 Working with HeW

AUGUST 2016 005010X221A1 1.3

877.565.5457 • HeWSupport@availity.com
www.hewedi.com

An entity that wants to send or receive transactions via the HeW clearinghouse must contract with HeW. This is done by contacting the HeW Support Center (see Section 5.1) for coordination of all Trading Partner Agreements, Service Agreement Amendments (for existing clients), contracting and site setup, which includes assignment of a Submitter ID and password. The HeW clearinghouse offers connectivity to multiple payers for 835 transactions. Payer availability is dependent on contract provisions with HeW.

2.2 Trading Partner Registration

An EDI Trading Partner is defined by HeW as any clearinghouse, billing service, software vendor, payer etc. that transmits to, or receives electronic data from HeW. (See Section 2.1 for information on contracting with HeW.)

2.3 Certification and Testing Overview

Each Trading Partner must go through a testing phase to ensure communication compatibility. However, no actual format testing is required for the 835 transaction, as this transaction is standard from HeW and not customized for individual trading partners.

3 - TESTING WITH HEW

3.1 Testing and Training

When the Trading Partner's setup is complete, testing and training staff will be assigned. This staff will assist the Trading Partner during the testing phase and arrange any necessary system training.

3.2 Test File Requirements

To receive 835 files, 837 test files are generally required before a Trading Partner can achieve production status. However, in some instances HeW will work with trading partners to exchange the 835 transaction without first exchanging the 837 transaction.
